The Lodge at Whale Channel

Are you content to fish in one place where luck determines if the salmon will be there? Or would you rather stay at a luxury resort that actually follows the fish?

At Whale, as soon as you arrive you're outfitted in floater suits and rubber boots. Fishing instructors will show you how to best rig and use our specialized gear, preparing you for those screaming 100+ yard runs that you'll soon be encountering. You will be assigned a safe, comfortable boat and shown how to operate it. Then you will be shown exactly where and how deep to fish. If you'd rather concentrate strictly on fishing, the lodge offers fully guided programs as well.

Begin at dawn and fish until dusk, if your arms can take it. Or sleep in and head out after the sun is high. The fish will still be out there, feeding on vast schools of herring and other baitfish. Want to catch a variety of fish? How about giant halibut, ling cod, rockfish and an array of colorful bottom fish? How about fishing for pinks using light tackle or a fly rod? At Whale Channel, the choice is yours.

After a long day on the water, soak in the lodge's hot tub to ease your fishing aches. Indulge in a great gourmet dinner served with local wines, then retire to the games room and tell your own fish stories before turning in and doing it all over again the next day.
